

Jonathan Tsang

Email: j26tsang@uwaterloo.ca
GitHub: github.com/jonathantsang
Website: jonathantsang.github.io
Devpost: <http://devpost.com/Boyd109>

Summary of Qualifications

- Eager to learn shown from hackathons such as Eng-Hack, Terrible Hack, UWP Hacks, and Hack the North
- Quick learner that is able to study and understand concepts swiftly

Proficiencies

- Python, HTML/CSS, Bootstrap, Javascript, Scheme, Regular Expressions, LaTeX
- Some knowledge in Command Line, Git and Github, C, SQL, and Unity

Projects

- Jonathantsang.github.io March 2016
- Made using Github Pages, Jekyll, and Liquid
 - Static page generator for keeping notes in university classes
- Regex Tricks February 2016
- Assortment of useful regular expression bits to search for certain parts in HTML code
 - Used in my co-op experience at SchoolMessenger to increase efficiency of the content migration by converting some large scale migrations to be simplified for other co-ops
- Amiiboplace.com June 2015
- A Wordpress CMS website where I compose articles analyzing Melee, Smash 4 and other Smash Bros related news

Work, Co-op, and Volunteer Experience

- SchoolMessenger Web Analyst | Toronto, ON January 2016 - April 2016
- Efficiently migrated content from clients' websites using Cygwin and Regular Expressions
 - Utilized, HTML, CSS, and Javascript knowledge to clean and format clients' website content
 - Built school notification apps for the clients' using an app builder
- Spirit of Math Assistant Teacher | Toronto, ON September 2012 - June 2014
- Taught advanced math techniques and taught them to a dozen students
 - Plotted class statistics and synthesized data into graphs for the purpose of performance comparison
- Hack the North 2016 Volunteer | Waterloo, ON September 2016
- Supervised hackers at Hack the North 2016 building and discussed the hackers' projects
 - Set-up Hack the North, signed hackers in at check-in, and distributed Hack the North materials to the hackers
 - Upon sponsor check-in and set-up, made sure that their booths were prepared for hackers
- Shad Valley Dalhousie Alumni | Halifax, NS June 2013
- Team work on multiple deliverables for the conception of a product or service that helps with human powered transportation
- Science 2015 Orientation Leader | Waterloo, ON January 2015 – September 2015
- Oversaw incoming first year students as a frontline leader
 - Lead the orientation group in morning activities

Interests:

- Velocity Residence alumni, where I worked on projects and discussed start-up ideas with other residents
- Playing chess and doing chess tactics on Chess.com and chesstempo.com
- Volunteering at the Feds Food Bank from February 2015 to September 2016
- 7th in the Mikes Bikes World Championship 2014 competing against national teams by formulating strategies to sell the most bikes in the Mikes Bikes simulator